

Friendly, Knowledgeable Agents

Safety is the top priority when it comes to the operation of school buses. We understand that safety within the industry spans from the operations of the business itself to the day-to-day transportation of students.

When purchasing insurance for your school bus company, it is important to work with an agent who truly understands the school transportation industry.

Student transportation contracts are becoming more complex and burdensome, requiring transportation providers to carry higher liability limits and specialized coverages that can be difficult to obtain.
